

Wow - what a week! We have focused on broadening the learning experiences we offer children. The week has been jam-packed full of exciting events. Monday morning saw the Year 5 children enjoy a walk along the river at Pentewen - luckily the weather was kind to us! On Monday afternoon, the Netball team competed in a tournament at Poltair School, taking second place on the day and qualifying for the next tournament! Well done Mev Netball Team on delivering some smashing performances while showing the Mevagissey Way. Dolphins loved their food workshops on Thursday - trying a range of healthy foods and learning about the importance of a balanced diet. We are all looking forward to Children in Need and the cross country races tomorrow!

Have a great weekend, Mr Ringrose

Can you write a balanced argument - Should Michael leave the island?

Kensuke's Island is a beautiful place in the Pacific Ocean. Should Michael stay or should he go? However, while Kensuke is happy with the orang-utans Michael might want to go home so should he?

Many ~~too~~ people believe, Michael should stay on the ^{is} Island because it has so many ^{delicious} fruits (like red bananas) ^{which} ~~with~~ Michael likes. Additionally, Michael ~~likes~~ should stay on the island so he can make friends with Kensuke. If Michael ~~stays~~ ^{does} stay on the island he will have no homework.

Many people consider that, Michael should get off the island ~~get~~ of the island because he might want to see his family and friends (like Eddy).

Michael might ~~want~~ want more food and water than what he is getting on the island. ^{Many} people believe, Michael ~~get~~ ^{should} get off the island, ~~because~~ ^{because} the mosquitoes are biting him in the dead of night and making him feel uncomfortable. Michael should leave the island because ~~Michael~~ he might feel ^{alienated} alienated from his family.

Many ~~too~~ people recommend Michael to get off the island but after after considering both of the arguments, I think

Michael should stay on the island. So he ~~can~~ can make friends ^{with} with ~~the~~ ^{with} Kensuke and keep eating red bananas. Kensuke is providing good food for Michael so he should stay on Kensuke's Island.

The children will get changed at school. It is sure to be an afternoon full of Christmas fun.

Any sponsorship that the children collect will provide vital funds for our school coach fund. We have attached a sponsorship form for everyone to collect donations.

Every little bit will make a huge difference and the children will have lots of fun on the day.

Many thanks
