Headteachers message

We hope you all enjoyed Sports Day as much as we did. It was great to see such a brilliant turn out of spectators – thank you for coming along and cheering on the children! Events like these are so memorable for the children and they have been telling me how much fun they had taking part in the different sporting activities and the races.

One child said to me today, 'Sports Day was amazing! The sack race was hard but fun!'

Big congratulations to Miss Kelly and her partner who welcomed baby Archie into the world earlier this week!

I received some lovely feedback from a parent recently who suggested the school compile a 'wish list' of books. This parent indicated that she would love to donate either used copies of the books that they may have at home or gift some of these books to help us add to the exciting titles we have in the library. We will share this list with you all next week.

In recent weeks, there has been an increase in holiday requests. A letter will come out next week with further information outlining term dates for the academic year '24/25. This will include further information about why the school advocates for good attendance and strongly encourages families to take holidays out of term time.

Have a great weekend.

Mr Ringrose

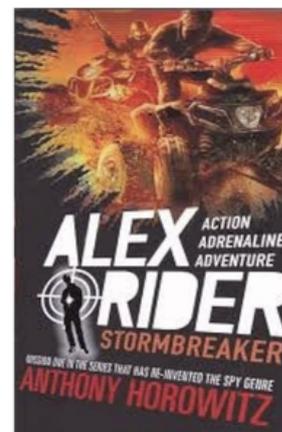

100% for our attendance winners this week. Well done to Seals class

Spotlight on learning

Seals Class

Seals class have had an exciting week reading the first few chapters of their novel, Stormbreaker. The main character, Alex, is in danger and is about to discover some things about his uncle that he didn't know. The children have been reading with enthusiasm and using their voices to read loud and proud in front of their peers. They can't wait to find out what happens next.
